

TERTIAL

TERTIAL is an abstract interpretation of South Africa's national bird, the Blue Crane, translated into a sculptural rug through form, rhythm and colour. Rather than depicting the bird literally, the design captures its graceful movement, distinctive feather structure and restrained palette of silvery greys, soft blue-greys and deep charcoal. The irregular silhouette transforms the rug into a functional piece of collectible design, celebrating the essence of the Blue Crane in a contemporary and distinctly South African way.
